October 7th, 2015

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Mr. Oleg Kolesnyk, who supported our R&D team by participating in one of our key projects as a Senior Software Developer.

Oleg was contracted by Pirelli for a fixed-term period from March, 2015 till July, 2015 to assist our Software Development team. His responsibilities included .NET/C# development and database development (MS SQL Server). He took over the technical part of creating a client-server application and complete design of the underlying database structure.

Despite the limited time and dynamic conditions Oleg fully designed the target software according to our requirements and implemented the most part of the final application including its database, server and client parts. He fulfilled his tasks with high level of professionalism and great thoroughness demonstrating enthusiastic and highly-motivated attitude to work. He showed great efficiency and reliability also in difficult ambient and under time pressure and contributed significantly to the success of the project.

I recommend Mr. Oleg Kolesnyk as a specialist ready for independent work of the highest quality.

Sincerely,

Pirelli Tyre
